

CBW

Number One
For PCV Professionals

COACH AND BUS WEEK Wednesday November 5, 2008 Issue 857 £2.95

THIS WEEK

Access08

Show highlights from the Community Transport event pages 64-65

Claims Coup

Backhouse Jones' new service aims to benefit operators large and small pages 53-54

Deliveries

New vehicles in fleets around the UK pages 68-69

People

All the latest moves, jobs and tenders pages 114

Shifting Solution

First drive of Setra's new PowerShift gearbox page 44

Online Operator

How one coachman runs his 'virtual' business pages 60-63

Depot Focus

Meeting the teams at Stagecoach NE pages 40-43

First View

Plaxton's new range topper is unveiled at Euro Bus Expo pages 48-51

Five drivers at P&O Lloyd Coaches have successfully completed their Driver CPC qualification.

Based at Bagillt, near Holywell, Flintshire, the drivers undertook the 35 hours of training with Flint-based Chevron Training.

John McKenna, partner in Chevron Training told CBW: "We're very pleased to be working in conjunction with P&O Lloyd, who are very proactive in terms of the training and staff development."

Feedback from the drivers included that although they are professional drivers, with many years of experience between them, they found the course "interesting and enjoyable," "informative" and "well presented and professional."

David Lloyd of P&O Lloyd told CBW: "I've found Chevron to be very professional and good to deal with. They're a local firm, so it's convenient. I want to be ahead of the game - I don't want to be part of the last minute dash in a few years' time, so I've booked the rest of our drivers in the next six months in batches of five."S

Pictured left to right are: Karen Gilson, partner in Chevron Training and drivers David Jones, Darren Jones, Graham Langley, Carl Jones and Graham Hewitt, and Mervyn Jones, Chevron training instructor.

■ Contact Chevron Training on 01352 761106 or visit <http://www.chevrontraining.co.uk/>.